

Youth Ambassadors Autumn Newsletter

The last initiatives and actions of our Youth Ambassadors for the European Code against Cancer all over Europe !

July Workshop in Brussels

On 6th and 7th July, 12 of the Youth Ambassadors met in Brussels for the 3rd workshop at the headquarters of the Belgian Foundation against Cancer. The European Code against Cancer is an initiative of the European Commission, providing 12 evidence-based recommendations on how to reduce your cancer risk.

After two days of intensive workshopping, Youth Ambassadors from a diverse array of countries ranging from Portugal to Ukraine, agreed to:

- produce a short video message on the ECAC in the national languages of the group;
- engage in regular 'Tweetchats' on the specific messages of the ECAC,
- recognize the 30th anniversary of the European Code against Cancer with joint action over the next 12 months, building on the experiences of the ambassadors actions to date.

A race against cancer

Helena Vučković, Youth Ambassador in Croatia, was coordinator of the initiative to organize the first edition of "I CAN run against CANcer". The event was hosted by the Croatian League against Cancer and was the opening ceremony of the European Week against Cancer in Croatia.

Everything was arranged to make sure that every person, no matter how physically active in everyday life was, could participate.

Thanks to this initiative, Croatian public and media were introduced to 12 European Code against Cancer rules. Helena was guest on national and local TV and radio stations.

A lot of people realized that they were not active enough in their everyday life and decided to become part of the Run Croatia Organization.

Promoting Code in Poland

- European Week Against Cancer 25th-31st May 2017, Warsaw

Paweł Koczkodaj, Youth Ambassador in Poland, promoted the ECAC in Polish Central Statistical Office, which employs around 6 000 people overall in Poland. He had presentations and distributed almost 400 paper versions of the recommendations. The presentation has aroused great interest. Thank you very much for this action!
